

RCACP Code of Ethics

RCACP is committed to providing positive patron experiences in its facility and outside events. The mission of RCACP in establishing this Code is to provide and maintain a safe environment where people can participate based on the principles of respect, restraint, and responsibility.

- Demonstrate respect, regardless of individual opinion, for ethnicity, race, sexuality, age, disability, or religion
- Cooperate with law enforcement or other RCACP officials to protect targets of offensive or inappropriate behavior
- Exhibit care and concern for the safety and wellbeing of fellow citizens and exhibit a sense of community, goodwill, and citizenship
- Express and practice civil behaviors that exemplify respect, restraint, and responsibility

The following inappropriate behaviors may result in voluntary or involuntary loss of access to RCACP:

- Abuse, harassment, harassing behavior, or threatening others or any conduct that could be perceived or construed of as threatening or intimidating behavior including loud, abusive, threatening, or insulting language or gestures
- Engaging in any activity or behavior prohibited by law, RCACP policy, or facility rule
- Disruptive or unsafe behavior, including any conduct that interferes with use or enjoyment of facility by other patrons, or with the functioning of staff, RCACP agents, or volunteers
- Activities or behavior that result in injury or harm to any patron, volunteer, or staff or that creates the risk of such harm
- Activities or behavior that result in damage to facility, equipment, and/or property of a patron
- Soliciting the sale of any merchandise or services not produced on premises without prior approval of management
- Disruptive, defiant, or nefarious activities including viewing of pornographic materials
- Lingered or loitering in a facility for protracted periods without a purpose
- Use and/or sale of drugs, drug paraphernalia, or alcohol
- Use of tobacco, tobacco products, in designated areas only

RCACP reserves the following rights to remedy violations of the Code of Conduct:

RCACP and its staff, volunteers, or Public Safety personnel may deny access to any person or group of persons it reasonably believes is violating or presents too great a risk of violating the spirit of the Code of Conduct.

RCACP staff, volunteers, or Public Safety personnel may ask patrons exhibiting inappropriate behavior to modify their behavior or to voluntarily leave the facility/area immediately.

Non-compliance with the Code may result in volunteer, patron, or group of patrons being required to involuntarily leave the facility, and may result in arrest and prosecution, and/or denial of access to facility/area for a prescribed period of time or indefinitely.
